OUR STORY

Where ancient grain meets craft brewing

Namgay Artisanal Brewery was born from a vision to create something genuinely Bhutanese — a craft beer that carries the soul of the Himalayan kingdom in every sip. Founded by Dorji Gyeltshen and established in the historic Paro valley, we are Bhutan's pioneering craft brewery.

Our flagship beer is brewed using Bhutanese red rice — an ancient grain cultivated by local farmers in the valleys of Paro for centuries. Red rice is not just an ingredient. It is a cultural touchstone, a symbol of Bhutanese identity, and what makes our lager unlike any beer brewed anywhere else on earth.

"The only brewery in the world brewing with Bhutanese red rice — a grain as ancient as the kingdom itself."

Brewed in the Himalayan highlands

Located in Paro — home to Bhutan's only international airport and the iconic Tiger's Nest monastery — our brewery sits at the crossroads of Bhutan's past and future. Every bottle carries with it the story of this extraordinary kingdom: its culture, its landscape, and its people.

OUR RANGE

The Bhutanese Collection

Red Rice Lager

BHUTANESE · CRAFT LAGER

ABV 6.5%

A traditional lager brewed using Bhutanese red rice — an ancient grain grown by local farmers in the Paro valley for centuries. Blended with Magnum and Saaz hops and imported two-row and crystal malts, the result is a medium-bodied lager with a toasty, caramel-like character. Clean hop bitterness complements smooth malt, caramel and toffee flavours. Refreshing, approachable, and completely unique.

Wheat Beer

BHUTANESE · CRAFT WHEAT

ABV 4.5%

A classic wheat beer brewed using pilsner and wheat malt, hopped with English East Kent Golding hops. Fermented to retain subtle banana esters that produce distinctive clove and banana notes. Full-mouthed in feel, with a natural effervescence that makes it an ideal companion to food. Complex yet approachable — a beer that surprises with every sip.
